Let's Start!

Let's look at Greek myths!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- What Greek myths do you know?
What myths do you know in your culture?

Can Do Statements

- I can use past time expressions.
- I can talk or report about actions, events or people.
- I can compare two things.

Let's Explore!

Persephone is taken to the Underworld.

* The "Underworld" in Greek myths is also called Hades.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

In ancient times, the Greeks believed their gods were like ordinary people. They were not better. They got angry, fell in love and got married. One of the myths is about Persephone.

Persephone was more beautiful than other women. Hades, king of the Underworld, kidnapped her and took her to his world below.

After Persephone disappeared, her mother, Demeter, mourned. She wouldn't let anything grow. The earth grew colder and darker then. Winter came.

Persephone cried. She missed the greener world above. Hades finally relented. He allowed her to go back home, but demanded she return.

Each spring, the flowers bloomed when Persephone returned. When fall came, she left for the Underworld. Her mother mourned and winter returned. This is how the seasons began.

Let's Practice!

Where did Hades take Persephone?

Instructions: Draw a line from the first part of the statement on the left to the second part on the right.

The gods got angry, fell

Learning Points

Past Tense Time Expressions

When you use the Simple Past tense, you often use time markers. Time markers set the action in the sentence or paragraph in the past. When you have no time marker, the reader or listener may ask ... when?

Past Time Marker	Example
last ...	last week/month/year/night
in ...	in ancient times
ago	10 years/2 hours ago
yesterday	I saw him yesterday
then	We were younger then
earlier	earlier today/this week
this morning	this morning I ate breakfast
when I was	when I was 14

Examples:

- When fall came, she left for the Underworld.
- The earth grew colder and darker then.

Comparatives

You use the comparative to compare two things.

The comparative ends in -er: taller

Or, more is used with longer words: more beautiful

You can use the comparative with a noun: a bigger car, his car was older.

You can use the comparative with than: his house is larger than my house, this dress is more expensive than that one.

Examples:

- Persephone was more beautiful than other women.
- The gods were not better.
- The Underworld was a darker, more frightening place.
