

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

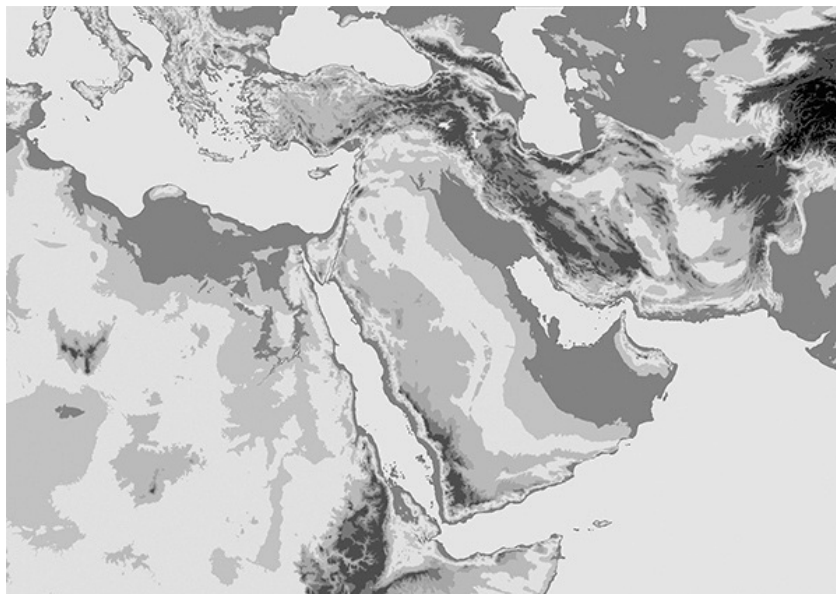

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's travel to the Middle East!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- Would you take a ride on a camel?
- What about an elephant or a horse?
Why or why not?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about geographic features.
- I can say where places are in a country.
- I can talk about general quantities using words like more or less.

Let's Explore!

Sally talks about the ships of the desert!

* A "ship of the desert" is another name for a camel.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally's Suitcase

Where is the Middle East? It's an area in Western Asia and Egypt. Some people think it's an endless desert of rolling dunes with nomads riding on camels. Well, that's all in the past. There's still a lot of sand but today most people travel in cars and trucks.

Camels were once the way to travel through the desert. They were used for transport, shade, milk, and meat. The nomads constantly moved their tents, families, and animals from one place to another. Their camels carried everything.

Today, many people here live in urban and rural areas. You don't see many camels in a city or village. The tribes of wandering people wearing colorful, unique clothing are gone. Instead, people here live and dress as people do everywhere.

Let's Practice!

Sally talks about the desert!

Instructions: Read the text. Choose all the incorrect words.

Some of people think the Middle East is just an endless desert of rolling dunes with no nomads riding on camels. Well, that's all in the past. Now, there's still a lot of much sand in the desert but today the most people travel in cars and trucks. Today, very many people in the Middle East live in urban and rural areas.

Let's Practice!

Where are the nomads now?

Instructions: Read the text. Check off the correct box in the table. There is one answer per question.

	camels	the desert	cities and towns	another	Western Asia and Egypt travel through live in ride on an area in
from one place to

Extension Activity

Describe a work animal.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Do some research on an animal that does useful work for humans (not a camel).
- Name the animal and say where it lives.
- Write 5-7 sentences.
- Describe the animal.
- Write what it does and what it is used for.
- Read your sentences to a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes
No

I write 50-75 words about a work animal.

☐
☐

I say where it lives and what it is used for.

☐
☐

I read my sentences aloud.

☐
☐

Target Words

- desert (noun): a large area of land covered in sand
e.g. They crossed the desert on a camel.
- camel (noun): a large animal, used to travel in the desert
e.g. Sit on the camel and travel across the desert.
- nomad (noun): a person who moves from one place to another
e.g. Nomads never live in the same spot for long.
- shade (noun): a place where the direct sunlight is blocked
e.g. I find it cooler in the shade on a hot summer day.
- tent (noun): a moveable shelter, made of cloth
e.g. I sleep in my tent when I am camping.
- rural (adjective): an area away from the city
e.g. Living in rural areas is more peaceful and relaxed.
- urban (adjective): in a city or town
e.g. It is noisier and busier in an urban area.
- wandering (adjective): moving from place to place without direction
e.g. Nomads are wandering people.

Learning Points

Ask and Say Where Places Are

When you ask where things are, you use polite questions. When you say where things are, you often use prepositions of place.

Asking Where Things Are	Saying Where Things Are
Can you tell me ... ?	It is between ...
I'd like to know ...	They are below ...
Do you know where ... ?	He is in ...
Where is ... ?	They are at ...

Examples:

- Where is the Middle East?
- It's an area in Western Asia and Egypt.
- They go from one place to another.

Learning Points

Quantifiers

You use a quantifier before a noun to indicate the amount or number of an item. You use quantifiers with both count and non-count nouns.

You can use all of the quantifiers below with both count and non-count nouns.

Quantifier	Meaning
more	a larger number/amount
less/fewer	a smaller number/amount
no/none	0
any/not any	ask about a number or amount/say there is no
some	a small number/amount
a lot of/lots of	a very large number/amount
plenty of	more than you need
enough	as much as you need
endless	never ending

Examples:

- Some people think the desert is an endless desert of rolling dunes.
- There's still a lot of sand in the desert.
- More and more nomads traded their wandering life for an urban one.

